Cerrespondence of the New York Tribune. ALEXANDRIA, VA, Fab. 4 -A si uen of several weeks to tole old. Vieginia town giver xcellent opportunities for observing the maide workings of a chariable enterptis commerced here under the ausp cas of the Lidies' Retiot Association some six years ago, celled the Euployment Society. It had its origin in this way : During the winter season there are large cumbers of deserving poor who could not live but for aid received from the Relief Assiena tion,-tamilies of fishermon, sail its on river eraft, oyster boats, etc. was can find no em-ployment. For many years it was the rule of ne association to take the names of all spplicants and find out by viiting and inquiring who der they were really in need, and relieve them . coording to their necessites; but it was feared that this might have a demoralizing tendency, and it was "borne in upon the minds" of some that a truer philaethropy would devise employment for these idls hands, and thus help them to earn something, nowever little. Several propositions were discussed, and one or two plans tried, only to prove how many difficul ties were in the way; finally it was decided to try w. a could be cone by in king begs for plaster and grain. This idea originated in the brain of a most active and energotic member of the assiciation, and one not easily dauated; so when various reasons why it would not work were brought forward she was ready with counter reasons why it should at least be tried. A gentleman friend of the cause just at his time donated $100, and with this small capital a beginning was made. Added to other discouragements was the difficulty of obtaining material; a spirit of jual u-y and self seeking seemed to be in the way; at last a house in Baltimore encouded to let the society have one bale of duck, induced to this generosity by the conviction that the enterprise would fail, and so more so wanted. With this one bale the society went to work, the ladies themselves doing the cutting and c unitag the bags when given ou and returned; two cents apieca was the price fixed u, on for the making, and ton

FORD. 212 Broadway N. Y. janl-sold summer, and there being no return from sales ustil then. A liberal minded gentlemen residing in one of the neighboring counties hearing of the dilemms, determined not to let the good work come to a stand still, and loaned the socity $1.000 without interest for one year; with this they were enabled to give empleyment to from thirty to seventy wo-men, and made unward of 20 000 bags and at the end of the year had the money ready to pay back; perhaps they hoped it would be returned as a donation, but if so, they were disappointed. However, nothing daunted, they managed to convince ten gentlemen of the importance of the work, and as a proof of their portance of the work, and as a proof of their approval each one loaned the society $100 without interest for six months, and in this way capital has been secured from time to time. Last year $2,000 were borrowed and all paid.

It was the writers privilege to be present on one occasion at the rooms of the association at the time appointed for receiving and giving out the weekly supplies; and it was a most interest ing scene. In the course of the six years the work has been going or, many difficulties have disappeared, and everything is now so well systematized that perfect order is easily maintsined, and there is no confusion whatever though many of the poor creatures who come for work are from the very lowest walks of life and are sadly deprayed. Some of the women, who are well known to the ladies and have proved themselves competent, now do all the cutting and counting; for since the work has assumed such magnitude the labor is too much for the ladies. The cutters go the rooms on Tues day mornings, cut off the material and tie it in bundles of ten bags each. They are paid by the day. On Wednesdays the ladies go, and first receive the bags given out on the previous week, a strict so out being kept by the secretary, and pay what is du; then the women re-ceive another supply. It is an interesting study to watch the different faces—come of our women who scarcely seem able to carry their heavy bundles; na y children, who come to LOSIERY, GLOVES, Handkerchiefs, Collars and Cuffs, in great variety, at LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S MERINO VESTS and PANTS, all sizes and qualities, at C. The room is provided with seats and after all the business is dispatched a Christian teacher, one of the clergymen of the city, specks a few plain, earnest woods of Gospel truth; then a nymn is sung, and they are dismissed.
